Renowned email compliance expert to speak at GWAVACon Contoural, Inc.'s Mark Diamond will discuss email archiving policy

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — January 24, 2008 — GWAVA, one of Novell's largest collaboration partners for Novell GroupWise and Novell Teaming + Conferencing, announced today that Mark Diamond, President and CEO, Contoural, Inc., will speak at GWAVACon in San Diego, Calif.

Diamond, one of the industry thought leaders in email archiving, litigation readiness, compliance, data protection and ILM strategies and practices, will examine records retention and email archiving. The session will also focus on the process of developing an effective retention policy to satisfy needs across legal, compliance, IT and other stakeholders.

“Having Mark speak at our conference will help attendees get a better understanding of the importance of email archiving,” said Richard Bliss, vice president marketing worldwide for GWAVA. “GWAVA's leading-edge compliance and archiving tools paired with his expertise are a natural fit.”

Diamond is founder, President and CEO of Contoural, Inc., a provider of business and technology consulting services. Under his leadership, Contoural has grown to be the industry leader in developing business and technology strategies for data retention policies and information archiving.

GWAVACon brings together GroupWise experts, speakers and partners from around the world. Attendees will get the latest GroupWise product and collaboration market information as well as technical sessions and training.

The conference is in San Diego, Calif. from January 26 to 29, 2008.
